Of Interest to Farmers and Mechanics

Farmers and mechanics frequently meet with slight accidents and injuries which cause them much annoyance and loss of time. A cut or bruise may be cured in about one-third the time usually required by applying Chamberlain's Liniment as soon as the injury is received. This liniment is also valuable for sprains, soreness of the muscles and rheumatic pains. There is no danger of blood poisoning from an injury when Chamberlain's Liniment is applied before the parts become inflamed and swollen. For sale by all dealers.

The chief objection to being a good citizen is how darned unpopular it makes you.

When a boy sees a stern light in his mother's eye he can face it bravely unless he fears it means the bathtub.

TAKEN ON TRIAL

The man whirled about. "I'll try you for a week," he snapped, "and your pay will be $10." The girl paused on her way to the door.

"Thank you," she said. "I expect to make myself worth more than that." When he came down the next morning and tramped into his office, he found the girl seated at her table, her brown head bent over her work. He was just a little surprised to find her there. Persons he had engaged had a way of promising to come back and failing to do so. He knew that he was to blame for this, and he rather gloried in the thought. But here was this strange girl at her place and looking as if she meant to stay there. She was a neat-looking girl. Her hair was tidy and there was a bit of white about her neck that softened the effect of the black frock. And in a little vase in front of her was a flower—a red flower of some kind—a flower he told himself, that looked strangely out of place in the dingy room.

And then the man suddenly stared about him. Both the windows were open, and they were clean, and the sunshine was streaming in. And there was a general air of freshness about the place that was quite amazing—and the odor of cleanliness was fairly pungent.

"Good morning," said she sweetly. This girl was going altogether too far. What did she mean by taking such liberties? He would show her that he was not the sort of man that could be imposed upon. No doubt she had been spoiled in the office of her father—her dead father.

He looked up. The girl was standing by the desk.

"The men from the telephone company will be here at ten o'clock to arrange for moving the 'phone," she said, "and the typewriter is being put in order. Do you feel the draught from the windows?"

He growled an inarticulate word or two and the girl turned away.

"Oh," she said and turned back. "Mary, the woman who cleans, asked me to tell you that she wasn't in any way responsible for the improved appearance of the office. She said she was quite willing to let me take all the credit. It seems much nicer here, doesn't it?"

Here was his chance to assert his authority. But, strange to say, the only form of expression his anger took was another vicious slam of the much suffering private drawer.

The girl brought new methods into the business, the labor-saving and time-saving devices he had despised. And with the departure of the old-fashioned methods his old-fashioned brusqueness seemed to depart, too. Customers who had been offended at his irritability and plain speaking came back. The business was in better shape than ever.

"I'm losing my grip," he growled to himself. "I don't know anybody who fears me. And yet, confound it, the old house seems to have a new lease of prosperity. If only Robert—"

He had been thinking a good deal about his son. No doubt it was another proof of his fatuous weakness. He arose suddenly and took the vacant chair by the girl's table.

"Miss Morris," he abruptly said. "I'm troubled."

"Not about the business, Mr. Thurber?"

"No, the business is all right. Perhaps, if it wasn't, I could keep my thoughts on it. It is my son Robert who bothers me."

"Yes, Mr. Thurber."

"But you don't ask me why?"

"I know something about the story, sir. You disagreed. Your son felt that you were treating him like a child. He rebelled. You drove him away."

"It is all quite true," said the man. "It's very hard for me to think I was wrong. Robert was a good boy. Perhaps I forgot that he had grown to be a man."

The girl leaned forward.

"Mr. Thurber," he said, "what is my position here?"

He looked at her blankly.

"I hardly know," he answered. "I will have to think it out. Is there any special title you want?"

She smiled.

"Let me be your confidential adviser for just a moment or two," she said. "You told Robert you would never call him back."

"Yes."

"Will you let me call him?"

He stared at her.

"Let you call him! Do you think he will come?"

"I am sure he will."

"Then you know Robert?"

"Yes. I knew him before I came here. I talk with him every day."

He drew his breath sharply. "Is this a game?" he demanded.

"It's a game in which the happiness of three persons is at stake," the girl answered.

"And you came here to—to tame me?"

"I came here because I promised to marry Robert, and I wanted his father's consent."

And the girl leaned forward, waiting.

Presently he looked toward her. Then he pointed with a shaking hand at the 'phone.

"Ring him up," he said.

S.S.S. CURES BLOOD POISON

Removing the symptoms is not all that is necessary to cure Contagious Blood Poison. The virulent germs which produce these outward manifestations must be completely driven from the blood before a real cure can be effected. The least taint left in the circulation will, sooner or later, cause a fresh outbreak of the trouble, with all the hideous symptoms of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper colored splotches, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc.

Contagious Blood Poison is the most treacherous of all diseases. It has its victims in its power almost before they realize its presence, because its first symptom is usually a little sore or pimple so insignificant that it does not excite suspicion. But the insidious poison is at work on the blood and in a short while the patient finds he is more or less affected from head to foot.

Contagious Blood Poison is too dangerous to trifle with. No time should be lost in ridding the blood of this destructive poison, and in no disease is it more important to have the proper remedy. Medicines which merely check the symptoms for a time and leave the real cause smoldering in the system have brought misery and disappointment to thousands. Faithfully the sufferers took such treatment, usually of mineral nature, and when all symptoms had disappeared and the treatment was left off, found the virus had only been shut up in the system awaiting a favorable opportunity to return, with every symptom intensified.

S. S. S. cures Contagious Blood Poison and cures it permanently. It goes down into the blood and removes every particle of the poison, makes the circulation pure and healthy, and does not leave the slightest trace of the disease for future outbreaks. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, all of which are healing and cleansing in their nature. It does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to injure the delicate parts of the system. S. S. S. will also drive out any lingering remains of mineral poison that may be in the blood from the former treatment. If you are suffering with Contagious Blood Poison S. S. S. will cure you, because it will purify your blood. Home treatment book and any medical advice free to all who write.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

CURED SOUND AND WELL.

Dear Sirs:—I didn't find out that I had contracted Contagious Blood Poison until it had made considerable headway, and fortunately for me the friend that I first consulted had had some experience with the disease, and advised me to take S. S. S., so I didn't fool with any doctors, but began at once the use of your medicine, taking it as directed. My friend told me to stick to it, and that was what I did and got along splendidly from the very first, and my recovery was rapid. I took a number of bottles, and am now as well as ever. When I began S. S. S. my face was so full of sores and eruptions that I could not shave, and now there is not a blotch or pimple on my body. There is nothing in the world that can beat S. S. S. for Blood Poison, and I always recommend it for such cases. A friend of mine is taking it now, and is getting along nicely.

304 Oakley St., Evansville, Ind.

COVERED WITH SORES.

I was afflicted with a terrible blood disease, which was in spots at first, but afterwards spread all over my body. These soon broke out into sores, and it is easy to imagine the suffering I endured. Before I became convinced that the doctors could do me no good, I had spent a hundred dollars, which was really thrown away. I then tried various patent medicines, but they did not reach the disease. When I had finished my first bottle of S. S. S. I was greatly improved, and was delighted with the result. The large red splotches on my chest began to grow paler and smaller, and before long disappeared entirely. I regained my lost weight, became stronger and my appetite greatly improved. I was soon entirely well, and my skin as clear as a piece of glass.

THE USUAL SYMPTOMS.

Having used S. S. S. quite extensively, I am in position to know its virtues. As the result of a serious blood disorder my blood became poisoned and I suffered severely with Rheumatism and other symptoms not necessary to mention. A friend told me he had been cured of my trouble by S. S. S. and upon his recommendation I began its use. After using it for some time my blood was thoroughly cleansed of all poisons and made pure and strong again.

I wish also to speak of its tonic properties. It built up my general health, it improved my appetite, gave me increased strength, and I felt better in every way. I am a great believer in S. S. S., and with pleasure recommend it to all who need a good blood medicine. ROBERT M. ZWETZ219.
